

Oct. 17, 2011

Dear Parents,

This week is filled with learning and fun times!

Religion: We are studying about saints and preparing for All Saints Day.

Reading and Phonics: We are beginning the study of letter d. We are putting sounds together to make silly words.

Math: We are working on sets 1-5 and on first, second, third, fourth, and fifth with the poem Five Little Jack-a-terns.

Social Studies: Manners

Science: The season of fall.

Homework: Please pray and read with your child everyday.

Monday: I have been asking the children to recite their name and address. I have very few children that can do well. Let's practice!

Tuesday: Find several pictures that begin the sound of d and glue them to the homework page.

Wednesday: Read, read, read with your child. Be sure to write the book on the Happy Meal Reading form.

A brief reminder that Wednesday and Thursday are Parent Teacher Conference Days. See you then.

God bless you!

Miss Calander

